ITINERARY

Day 1: Arrival Day

You're welcome to check in at St Davids Cross Hotel from 3:30pm onwards. Located right in the centre of Britain's smallest city, it will be our base for the next few days. Your HF Holidays Leader will be on hand from 6:30pm, when we'll gather to give you a warm welcome and explain the plan of action before dinner.

Day 2: St Davids Circular

Distance: 9.5 miles (15km)
Ascent: 1,025ft (315m)

From St Davids, we'll walk out across farmland to join the coastal path at Porthclais Harbour. Once a bustling port, it's now popular with kayakers and coastal path walkers. From here we'll wind along the high cliffs with views over Ramsey Island and pass through Porthlysgi Bay, Castell Heinif, St Justinian's, Porthselau Beach, and Whitesands Beach - renowned for being one of the best surfing beaches in the country. We'll then loop inland to return to St Davids. It's well worth keeping an eye out for seals, dolphins, and a variety of birds along this stretch of coast.

Day 3: Pwll Deri To Trefin

Distance: 10.5 miles (17km)
Ascent: 2,135ft (650m)

With 450ft-high cliffs towering above the sea, there's lots to admire at Pwll Deri. The good views continue as we make our way to the pretty bays of Pwll Crochan, Aber Bach, and Aber Mawr, the most important Ice Age settlement in Pembrokeshire. There's also Castell Coch, the remains of an Iron Age promontory fort. The peninsula treats us to even more wow-worthy vistas, which are well worth the effort, before the going gets gentler as we approach the hamlet of Abercastle and the beach at Aber Draw to Trefin.

Day 4: Free Day

Today you have free time to explore Britain's smallest city or simply relax. Visit St Davids Cathedral, The Bishop's Palace, or take a boat trip to the wild offshore islands for even more wildlife-spotting opportunities.

Day 5: Newport Circular

Distance: 9 miles (14.5km) Ascent: 1,400ft (425m)

Leaving Newport, we'll ascend to Carningli (The Mount of Angels), a summit steeped in legend and history. On a clear day we'll have stunning 360-degree views across Pembrokeshire.

After exploring the remains of the ancient hillfort here and soaking up the scenery, we'll start a steady descent back to the coastal path, passing through the wooded valley of Cwm Rhigian on our way.

Quaint coastline and idyllic sandy coves line the way to Parrog, Newport's oldest port. Before silting the estuary in the late 1800s, slates, herrings, wool, and other local products were exported from here. A gentle path leads us back into the town centre.

Day 6: Porthgain To Whitesands Bay

Distance: 9.5 miles (15km)
Ascent: 1,985ft (605m)

Porthgain is a fascinating village, moulded by a short-lived Industrial Revolution in Pembrokeshire. The small harbour was used between 1837 and 1931 to export stone, slate, and bricks.

Further along the coast we'll encounter Abereidly, a popular bay with deep blue water and extraordinary dark sand. From here there's a fabulous few miles of clifftop walking before we go round the wild heather-covered section of St Davids Head to uncover the crescent-shaped beach of Whitesands Bay. You have the option of catching the Celtic Coaster bus back to St Davids or returning on foot.

Day 7: Newgale To St Davids

Distance: 10 miles (16km)

Ascent: 1,970ft (600m)

We'll take the bus out to Newgale to enjoy an exhilarating walk back to St Davids along this classic stretch of coastline. And with one of Pembrokeshire's most impressive sandy beaches behind us, we'll walk over grassy slopes and clifftops to emerge at the old fishing village of Solva with its disused Lime Kilns positioned directly on the water's edge.

A steep climb out of the harbour gets us on to an undulating path along the cliff tops. We'll search out the stunning natural sea arch at Gewni Island as well as interesting rock formations at 'The Cradle'. There's also Caerfai Bay's purple sandstone cliffs where you're treated to views out to Skomer and Skokholm island.

On the final stretch of our walk, we'll see St Non's Chapel, the birthplace of St David – a fitting finale to this week of extraordinary walking.

Day 8: Departure Day

Enjoy a leisurely breakfast before check-out at 10:30am.

Safety On Your Holiday

Walks may be changed for safety reasons and are subject to a maximum and minimum number of guests.

Leaders always consider the safety of the group as a whole, and may need to alter or curtail the walk if the conditions dictate. Your leader may refuse to accept a guest while clothing, equipment or behaviour is unsuitable. In the event of a problem all leaders carry a mobile phone, first aid kit, group shelter, spare maps and a compass.

Please note: If you choose to leave the group your leader is no longer responsible for you.

If you have a particular health condition or disability please put this on your guest registration form. This information will be confidential to your leaders and the house manager, but leaders do need to take account of any issues when planning walks. Please carry a copy of these trip notes with you, or note down the contact phone number for your accommodation (details in the travel section) should you need them in case of emergency.

Useful Information

Our experienced and knowledgeable volunteer leaders undergo a thorough assessment to lead you on your Guided Walking/Hiking Trail and are delighted to share their knowledge and enthusiasm with you.

Please ensure you complete and hand in your registration form on arrival and let the leader know about any medical problems you may have. This may be useful in the event of a problem on the walk and will be treated confidentially by the leader.

In The Event Of A Problem

If you become separated from the party, please stay where you are. Your leader will retrace their steps to find you.

All our leaders carry a mobile phone, group shelter, spare maps and a compass. In the unlikely event your leader is incapacitated, please use any emergency kit in their rucksack. Call the emergency services (call 999 in the UK, or 112 overseas).

Please then try to call the hotel where you are staying to let them know there is a problem.

In The Event Of A Problem During Your Stay

In the hopefully rare event of any cause for complaints regarding accommodation, you should notify your leader who can then attempt to rectify the problem.

Ticks

Ticks are tiny creatures that live in vegetation and can attach themselves to passing animals or walkers and may carry a risk of Lyme Disease. Please refer to NHS advice and guidelines for information prior to your holiday.
