ITINERARY - ITINERARY

Day 1 Arrival Day

After an afternoon flight via Lisbon, we arrive in Praia on the island of Santiago, and a short transfer will take us to our hotel for a late check in.

Day 2 Praia, Calabaceira to Cidade Velha

Distance: 3 miles (5km)

Descent: 650 feet (198m)

This morning we explore Praia, the largest city in Cape Verde and capital, on a guided walking tour. We'll see the old historic buildings such as the Presidential Palace, City Hall and the Church of Nossa Senhora da Graça in an area of the city known as the Plato. The statue of Diogo Gomes stares out to sea, reminding us of the European explorer who first made mention of these islands in 1460.

Following a drive through pleasant countryside, we start our afternoon walk. We start above the Salineiro Valley where we descend a rocky sandstone path to the valley floor. Once in the valley we follow paths which run along the river bed, through small villages and fertile terraces where we'll see tropical fruits growing and small sugar cane plantations. The sugar cane is used to make 'grogue', a local drink which offers more punch than taste, which some distillers mix with honey or fruit syrup.

Lunch is at a seafront restaurant in Cidade Velha, after which we visit the old fortress. Cidade Velha stands on the site of the oldest settlement in Cape Verde, Ribeira Grande. It was classified as one of the Seven Wonders of Portuguese Origin.

Day 3 Pico Antonio & Sao Jorge

Today we drive to Pico Antonio the highest mountain on Santiago at 4,560ft (1,392m). There are two walk options.

Option 1 - Ascend Pico Antonio

Distance: 6 miles (9.5km)

Ascent: 2,300 feet (700m)

We hike through dramatic volcanic typology and the higher you go the more vegetation like pine trees, eucalyptus, and some coffee cultivation will be seen. The trails we follow are generally well defined but the last section to the summit can be tricky, featuring narrow ledges and loose scree. The views from various points along the way and at the summit are well worth the effort with panoramic views of the whole island at the top. As this is a challenging walk it is optional and we offer an alternative easier experience. You also don't have to go to the top to still see stunning views.

Option 2 - São Jorge

Distance: 5 miles (8km)

Descent: 1,300 feet (396m)

An extra local guide will offer an alternative easier walk which descends on forest trails through native bush and reforestation projects to the village of São Jorge. This small, quiet village offers a glimpse into rural life. This area is known for its lush vegetation, agricultural landscape, and is home to the National Botanical Garden Grandvaux Barbosa. The village has several cafés and bars where you can enjoy the relaxing atmosphere with a locally grown organic coffee.

Day 4 Serra Malagueta National Park

Distance: 6½ miles (10.5km)

Ascent: 700 feet (213m)

Descent: 3,300 feet (1,000m)

We start the day with a visit to Assomada and its lively West African style market with its smells, noise and mesmerising colours. We may do this visit later in the day, depending on local conditions.

We continue to the entrance of the Serra Malagueta National Park, where we walk through recently planted reforestation projects and down into the Gon Gon valley to the village of Hortelão. The path is easy to follow, though there are a few steeper sandy sections. The trail takes us through small villages, tropical fruit orchards and the odd 'grogue' distillery. Look out for grey headed kingfishers on this walk.

Day 5 São Vicente

Today we fly to São Vicente where we'll discover Mindelo on a guided walking tour. Mindelo is the jewel of this island, with a cosmopolitan atmosphere and a vibrant cultural scene. With its sheltered deep port, the British installed a coal station in 1838 which supplied ships from all around the world, leading to the town's prosperity. On our tour we'll see influences from the British and the Portuguese in the Governor's Palace, the City Hall and the replica of the Belem Tower in Lisbon.

Day 6 Santo Antão And Paul Valley

Distance: 6 miles (9.5km)

Ascent: 800 feet (240m)

Descent: 3,600 feet (1,100m)

We begin our day with a ferry ride from São Vicente to the neighbouring island of Santo Antão (1 hour crossing) followed by a scenic drive to the start of our walk overlooking the Cova da Paul - a volcano whose caldera is situated at the centre of steep cliffs at over 4,600 feet (1,400m). It is an important hiking destination known for its lush green scenery, agricultural terraces, and stunning views. After taking in the peaceful surroundings (the caldera is extinct) we head down a cobbled switchback through fertile plantations into the Paul Valley which is one of the most stunning hikes on Santo Antão. From the valley we continue on to our hotel.

Day 7 Cha De Igreja

Distance: 7.5 miles (12km)

Ascent: 2000 feet (620m)

Descent: 2200 feet (700m)

Today we walk from our hotel to the beautiful village of Cha de Igreja in the next valley. We walk along a road on the left-hand side of the Ribeira Grande for about half an hour and cross the dry river bed to a small path up the right (north) side of the valley. The path is steep, and zig zags its way up the saddle at 830m. You might spot Egyptian vultures.

From here there's a steep descent on a cobbled path to the edge of the remote village of Selada do Mocho. We continue until we reach the dry river bed of Ribeira Garca, where we can see the small village of Cha de Igreja on a promontory of land above us. A short but steep path leads to the village.

A more relaxed option is also possible: walking from the hotel, ascend through maize and sugar cane fields to the ridge visible from the hotel's terrace before descending on cobbled tracks to the village of Cha de Pedras, seen earlier in the week.

Day 8 Ponta Do Sol

Ponta do Sol is a vibrant fishing village in the north of Santo Antão island. It is set in a landscape of dramatic cliffs, and is known for colourful boats bobbing in the harbour, colonial architecture and scenic coastal trails. The routes both walk options take end in the picturesque village of Fontainhas. This stunning remote village is often cited as having one of the world's best views. Its colourful houses perch precariously on steep, lush volcanic cliffs and its' slow-paced tranquil atmosphere is sure to captivate.

Option 1 - Coastal Walk

Distance: 9½ miles (15km)

Ascent: 2,150 feet (655m)

This walk starts from the adjacent fishing village of Cruzinha. We follow a dramatic coastal path which contours around to the village of Fontainhas and the former capital of Santo Antão, Ponta do Sol. This is an undulating walk, with one sustained uphill stretch just before reaching Fontainhas.

Option 2 - Circular walk Ponta do Sol

Distance: 5 miles (8km)

Ascent: 650 feet (200m)

For those who would prefer to take an easier walk today, there is an option to walk from Ponta do Sol to Fontainhas village and back to Ponta do Sol.

Day 9 Lomba Branco

Lomba Branco is a small, scenic settlement located in the northeastern part of the island. It is known for its dramatic landscapes, rugged mountains, and lush, green valleys.

Option 1 - Pinhao Valley to Lomba Branco

Distance: 5 miles (8km)

Ascent: 1,050 feet (320m)

On this option we walk from the valley of Pinhao to Lomba Branco. We'll traverse through several valleys and pass a deserted village before the final short steep ascent to Lomba Branco. This walk offers breathtaking views of the coastline, lush valleys and agricultural terraces.

Option 2 - Valleys and Grogue Distillery

Distance: 5½ miles (9km)

Ascent: 985 feet (300m)

Descent: 1,640 feet (500m)

We'll walk from the valley of Cha de Pedras to the village of Coculi. We traverse between valleys on relatively easy cobbled paths through sugar cane plantations, farms and villages. We pass a Grogue Distillery (a potent, artisanal sugarcane spirit) and have the opportunity to sample and purchase locally made drinks and preserves. We finish our walk by descending on a small, cobbled road to the main valley.

Day 10 Alto Mira III To Cha Da Morte

Distance: 4 miles (6.5km)

Ascent: 1,200 feet (370m)

Descent: 1,650 feet (500m)

Today we walk the lesser known northwest part of Santo Antão. The walk takes us from the remote village of Alto Mira III to Cha da Morte and is interesting because of its impressive and varied rock formations and microclimatic variations which affect certain parts of Santo Antão.

Day 11 Mindelo

Today we take the ferry back to São Vicente and to Mindelo where we have an optional last walk and the rest of the day at leisure to relax or explore this vibrant cultural centre of the islands.

Day 12 Departure Day

Transfer to the airport for the return flight from Sao Vicente via Lisbon back to London.

Daily Walk Options

Medium Walks

Walks follow well-defined paths, though often in hilly or upland areas, or along rugged coastal footpaths. These may be rough or steep in sections and will require reasonable fitness.
