TRIP SUITABILITY

---

This Guided Walking /Hiking Trail is graded 4 which involves walks/hikes on well defined paths, though often in hilly or upland areas, or along rugged coastal footpaths. These may be rough and steep in sections and will require a good level of fitness. It is your responsibility to ensure you have the relevant fitness and equipment required to join this holiday. Coastal paths such as this often feature a considerable amount of ascent and descent due to the nature of the coast, so you should be prepared for this. A sustained effort is required to complete this trail and provision cannot be made for anyone who opts out. Please be sure you can manage the daily mileage and ascent detailed in the daily itineraries. The walking day is normally 6 to 7 hours. It is important for your own enjoyment, and that of your fellow guests that you can maintain the pace. It makes a lot of sense to spend time getting some additional exercise before your holiday. We suggest that you try to fit in a number of longer walks, including some on hilly terrain. Other exercises such as cycling, jogging and swimming are also excellent for developing increased stamina.

ITINERARY

Day 1: Arrival Day

Check-in at the Cliff Hotel & Spa is from 3pm. Your leader will either be on the transfer from Carmarthen station or will join you for a welcome meeting prior to dinner on your arrival evening.

Day 2: Cardigan To Aberporth

Our walk starts in Cardigan with its Norman Castle, on the banks of the River Teifi. Cardigan was an important shipping port in times gone by. We initially follow the river on our way to Gwbert with views on route of St. Dogmaels and Poppit Sands across the estuary, before turning north with Cardigan Island ahead. Hugging the undulating coastline we reach the National Trust owned Mwnt beach and headland complete with its whitewashed church. Continuing along the cliff tops initially we have to detour inland to avoid the M.O.D. establishment before descending to the pretty village of Aberporth. 12 miles (19km) with 1,850 feet (560m) of ascent.

Day 3: Aberporth To Cwmttydu

After an initial flat first mile we make our way through the holiday village of Tresaith with its spectacular waterfall and the National Trust owned Penbryn, with a visitor centre. We continue on our rollercoaster journey towards Ynys Lochtyn which is represented in the Cardigan coast path symbol. We are now high above the water with super views of the coastline ahead, before arriving in the charming village of Llangrannog with its sandy beach and facilities. We pass between Pendinas iron age hill fort and Ynys Lochtyn where dolphins are often seen, and continue high on the cliffs to our destination, the tiny hamlet of Cwmttydu and the end of a rewarding but tough day. 9½ miles (15 km) with 2,700 feet (800m) of ascent.

Day 4: Cwmttydu To Aberaeron

We ascend onto the cliff top path, high above the shoreline with wonderful coastal views. Shortly we arrive at the popular resort town of New Quay with its ample facilities. Dylan Thomas lived here in the 1940's. From here providing the tide is right we have over a mile of firm, sandy beach walk before continuing along the cliff top to the purpose built and quirky holiday village of Gilfach yr Halen. The isolated and sometimes inaccessible coves around here are favourite seal nurseries between August and November. We end our day at the prettiest town on the whole Ceredigion coastline, Aberaeron, with its sheltered harbour and regency planned colourful houses. Originally a ship building town it has now transformed into the place for pleasure boating centered around the sailing club. 9½ miles (15 km) with 1,750 feet (530m) of ascent.

Day 5: Aberaeron To Llanrhystud

Today we have an easier day's walking, which will give us more time to look around Aberaeron before departure on an easy flat section to the compact village of Aberarth. Just before the village at low tide the old fishing quay and fish traps may be seen. It is likely that the building stones of Strata Florida Monastery, 10 miles to the east inland, were landed here. We continue hugging the coast passing more fish traps to Llanon, named after the mother of St. David, We continue passing Llansanffraid church. Curiously there is no harbour here but 24 seagoing vessels were built on the beach, the largest being 248 tons. We end our day at Llanrhystud, a little way inland. 7½ miles (12km) with 600 feet (180m) of ascent.

Day 6: Llanrhystud To Aberystwyth

Making our way back onto the path from the agricultural village with its impressive church, we reach the coast again soon passing Mynachdu'r Graig. [Monk's house on the rock] which formerly was one of Strata Florida's farms providing fresh food sustenance for the Monks. Shortly after we pass the substantial derelict farmhouse of Ffos Las. Easier going from here on a good track to another of the Monks farms, Morfa Bychan, now a caravan park. From here is one of the best sections of the whole walk with super views of Snowdonia and Llyn Peninsula and the Plynlimon hills to the east. We descend steeply to the pebbly beach of Tanybwllch with Aberystwyth beckoning ahead. We cross the river Ystwyth, then the Rheidol to arrive at Aberystwyth, now a busy University town and the largest built up area along the west coast of Cardigan Bay. 10½ miles (17km) with 2,150 feet (640m) of ascent.

Day 7: Aberystwyth To Ynys Las

Our last walking day starts along the wide promenade to reach the far end and taking the path alongside the cliff railway onto the cliff top. After admiring the view over Aberystwyth we continue on a good path to Clarach Bay, with a lovely beach. Continuing our rollercoaster ride on the cliff top with even better views of Snowdonia and the Llyn Peninsula we pass Wallog Mansion, the closest positioned country house to the coast, in the whole county. Eventually reaching Borth, another holiday village, where legend has it that Cantref Gwaelod, a submerged kingdom, was here, whose drowned church's bells can still be heard on still evenings in Aberdyfi. The remains of a submerged forest offshore can be seen at very low tides. From Borth the last section is flat and we make our way along the channelled River Leri to our destination, the visitor center at Ynys Las on the Dyfi estuary. 10 miles (16km) with 1,500 feet (450m) of ascent.

Day 8: Departure Day

If you are joining our transfer, we will return you to Carmarthen station for 10.30am.
