WALKING GRADES AND OPTIONS

This Guided Island Hopping /Hiking Trail is graded 3 which involves walks/hikes on well-defined paths, though often in hilly or upland areas, or along rugged coastal footpaths. These may be rough and steep in sections, and often with many steps, so a good level of fitness is required. Coastal paths such as this often feature a considerable amount of ascent and descent due to the nature of the coast, so you should be prepared for this. It is your responsibility to ensure you have the relevant fitness and equipment required to join this holiday. It makes a lot of sense to spend time getting some additional exercise before your holiday. We suggest that you try to fit in a number of longer walks, including some on hilly terrain. Other exercises such as cycling, jogging and swimming are also excellent for developing increased stamina. Walking days will involve a mix of transport; coach, boat and air transport in order to visit the islands and enjoy the walks.

Your fitness

Having a solid base of fitness before your holiday will ensure you've the best chance of completing the holiday and enjoying it to boot. Here's a few simple tips to help you get fit and ready for your challenge:

- Get out walking - whether the weather, get out there, and start building your fitness months before your holiday
- Build your distance gradually and get a number of 6-8hr hill days in
- Ideally, try and do two consecutive days training if possible
- Take the stairs every time
- Train on different terrain
- Train with your day pack and your walking boots too, to ensure they're well worn in before your holiday
- Other sports help improve your walking fitness too. The best ones are jogging, cycling, swimming, which will build your stamina, and yoga which will help strengthen your core and improve balance
- Time training will help ensure you enjoy your holiday to the max.

ITINERARY - ITINERARY

Day 1 Arrival Day

Your leader will be at reception at 18:30 to meet the group and for a quick introduction to the holiday before dinner.

Day 2 Guernsey

Today we leave St Peter Port on foot and enjoy views of the harbour and the imposing Castle Cornet. After ascending to Clarence Battery and Fort George we join a much more rural path to Fermain Bay, with its loop-holed tower. Crossing into St Martin's parish we continue with stunning coastal views to Jerbourg Point. On a clear day this corner of the island offers fine views of the other Channel Islands and France. From Jerbourg, we join the south cliff path passing high above Moulin Huet Bay and Saint's Bay en route to Lcart Point and the incredibly pretty beach at Petit Bôt, before completing our walk close to Le Gouffre Nature Reserve. This is quite a tough, but beautiful walk. The coastal bus service offers an earlier return option for anyone who finds the complete walk a little long.

10 miles (16.5km) with 1,950 feet (600m) of ascent and 1,800 feet (540m) of descent.

Day 3 Sark

Our boat journey from St Peter Port takes us directly to Sark in less than an hour and we begin our walk directly from the Maseline Harbour tunnel. Pretty country paths and car-free lanes quickly reach the south coast and our path meets extensive views over Derrible Bay. We soon reach Dixcart Bay and follow the rising cliff path, which offers wonderful views out to sea before crossing La Coupée – a narrow isthmus leading to Little Sark. Little Sark offers quiet lanes, cliff views, charming houses and the remains of silver mines. Back on Sark, we follow the Rue du Sermon into the village and pass La Seigneurie before looping the island's rocky northern headland. Returning to the village initially, our route then drops back to the harbour for our return boat.

9 miles (14.5km) with 1,250 feet (380m) of ascent and 1,250 feet (380m) of descent

Day 4 Free Day

Relax and enjoy the islands ambience or set off and explore independently – options in St Peter Port include Victor Hugo's Hauteville House, Guernsey Museum & Candie Gardens, Castle Cornet, and La Valette Military museum. Other suggestions on the island include Sausmarez Manor & Gardens, the Little Chapel, Fort Grey, the German Underground Hospital & the German Occupation Museum. Further afield, there's the possibility of a trip to Alderney (there are daily flights which you'd need to book independently and in advance), where there's well sign posted walks exploring the island.

Day 5 Guernsey

Our second walk on Guernsey continues from Le Gouffre and rejoins the rugged south coast. The cliff path here has some fairly steep ups and downs but the Pleinmont Headland rewards us with wonderful views out towards Hanois Lighthouse, nature reserves and commanding historic towers. After the mysterious-looking Fairy Ring, we re-join civilisation at Portelet Harbour. From here we can enjoy the contrast of walking on Guernsey's west coast, which features a succession of wide sweeping bays with views of defences like the iconic Fort Grey and Lihou Island, the most westerly point in the Channel Islands. Our final destination for the day is pretty Vazon Bay, which is protected by the imposing Fort Hommet. This is quite a tough, but beautiful walk. The coastal bus service offers a return option for anyone who finds the complete walk a little long.

12 miles (19.5km) with 1,350 feet (400m) of ascent and 1,700 feet (520m) of descent.

Day 6 Herm

A morning sailing takes us over to the tiny island of Herm, to the east of St Peter Port, in just 15 minutes. Despite being so close to Guernsey, the smallest island on the Channel Island Way is a world away from bustling St Peter Port. Regardless of whether the boat lands at the harbour or Rosaire Steps we progress south with views to Jethou Island (privately leased by philanthropist Sir Peter Ogden). The undulating cliff path winds around to the island's east coast and the views are often inundated with seabirds. From Belvoir Bay the walk levels out and we pass pretty Shell Beach and loop across the green. With our circuit complete, the quaint harbour village offers a souvenir shop and refreshments at the Mermaid Tavern.

4 miles (6.5km) with 150 feet (40m) of ascent and descent.

Day 7 Guernsey

Continuing from Vazon Bay, our final walk on Guernsey completes our circuit of the island. We carry on along the islander's playground, past sandy beaches and seagrass dunes dotted with rocky granite outcrops. At Le Grand Havre we reach Vale, which, before human intervention, was once separated by water from the rest of Guernsey. Now at the north of the island, we pass the Megalithic passage grave of La Varde and the beautiful L'Ancrese Bay en route to Fort Doyle. From here the pretty harbours of Bordeaux and St Sampson lead us back to the Esplanade in St Peter Port and our starting point.

15 miles (24.5km) with 750 feet (240m) of ascent and descent.

Day 8 Departure Day

Enjoy breakfast before making your way home.

Useful Information

Ticks

Ticks

Ticks are tiny creatures that live in vegetation and can attach themselves to passing animals or walkers and may carry a risk of Lyme Disease. Please refer to NHS advice and guidelines for information prior to your holiday.

Your Island Hopping Leader

Our experienced and knowledgeable volunteer leaders undergo a thorough assessment to lead you on your holiday and are delighted to share their knowledge and enthusiasm with you.

Please ensure you complete and hand in your registration form on arrival and let the leader know about any medical problems you may have. This may be useful in the event of a problem on the walk and will be treated confidentially by the leader.

In the event of a problem

If you become separated from your group, please stay where you are. Your leader will retrace their steps to find you.

All our leaders carry a mobile phone, group shelter, spare maps and a compass. In the unlikely event your leader is incapacitated, please use any emergency kit in their rucksack and call the emergency services (call 999 in the UK, or 112 overseas).

Please then try to call the hotel where you are staying to let them know there is a problem.

If you have any cause for complaints regarding accommodation, you should notify your leader who can then attempt to rectify the problem.

Travel Insurance for the Channel Islands

Travel Insurance

Travel and appropriate personal insurance cover is an essential requirement for this holiday. Guernsey's Health Service is not part of the UK National Health Service. Primary care health professionals are in private practice and all patients are required to pay for treatment. There is no reciprocal health agreement between Guernsey and the British Government. UK residents will be charged for medical treatment within a hospital and for the ambulance service and repatriation. Please note: Visitors from countries which have an agreement will still be charged for the same aspects of treatment as a local resident, which includes treatment by a GP and ambulance service.

Telephones in the Channel Islands

Mobile Phones

The Channel Islands are not included as part of the UK by most mobile phone operators. Your provider will charge their specific roaming charges for calls made and received on the Channel Islands. Whilst this is often cheaper than using your mobile in Europe, you may wish to consider using 'Sure' (Cable and Wireless) payphones instead. These are often seen as a novelty and are photographed by many British visitors as they are painted blue rather than the traditional 'pillar box' red.

Local currency

Local currency for Channel Islands

Guernsey has its own currency. This currency is sterling but is not accepted in the rest of the British Isles. British pounds are accepted just like anywhere else in the UK and change given can be a mixture of British and Channel Islands money. To change back to currency, Bureau de Change can be found at several locations and there are banks in St Peter Port and St Anne, as well as the Guernsey Information Centre.
