ITINERARY - ITINERARY

Day 1 Arrival Day

Check-in at the hotel is available from 16:00. If you are a member you can arrive at the house from 14:00. Enjoy a complimentary cream tea at 16:30 and meet other guests.

Day 2 The Long Mynd

Follow peaceful valleys onto the Long Mynd, where ancient rocks and panoramic views reveal the story of this distinctive landscape.

Distance: 6.5 miles (10 km)

Ascent: 1,300 feet (395 m)

From Longmynd House, we'll follow the winding Townbrook Valley onto the Long Mynd plateau and climb to its highest point at Pole Bank. Here, far-reaching views across Shropshire and Mid Wales set the scene for the week ahead. We'll examine some of England's oldest rocks, look for unusual fossils and consider how deep valleys such as Townbrook and Carding Mill were formed. After following the historic Port Way northwards, we'll descend through Carding Mill Valley, passing the picturesque Lightspout Waterfall.

If time allows, there will be an optional walk towards Little Stretton for a fine view of the Stretton Valley and Church Stretton Fault.

Optional walk: 2.5 miles (4 km)

Ascent: 590 feet (180 m)

Day 3 Craven Arms, View Edge and Stokesay

Explore the wooded hills around Craven Arms, search for fossils among the Silurian limestone and pass historic Stokesay Castle.

Distance: 7.5 miles (12.5 km)

Ascent: 1,100 feet (335 m)

Starting at the Shropshire Hills Discovery Centre, we'll climb gradually through fields and woodland to View Edge. This classic limestone escarpment offers rewarding views and the chance to look for fossils dating from the Silurian period. From its crest, we'll trace the limestone ridge towards Wenlock Edge and Ludlow, and consider how its distinctive curved shape was formed. We'll then descend through the peaceful Brandhill Gutter and join the Shropshire Way, returning via Aldon and the impressive Stokesay Castle.

Day 4 Free Day - Shropshire Hills

Discover more about Longmynd House and the local area for ideas on how to make the most of your free day.

Day 5 Caer Caradoc and the Stretton Hills

Climb Caer Caradoc to discover ancient volcanic rocks, striking tors and sweeping views across the Stretton Valley.

Distance: 9.5 miles (15 km)

Ascent: 1,700 feet (520 m)

From Longmynd House, we'll cross the Stretton Valley before climbing steeply to the summit of Caer Caradoc. Its dramatic tors, Iron Age hillfort and bird's-eye views over the Long Mynd make this a rewarding high point. We'll examine the hill's Precambrian volcanic rocks and consider how they relate to the ancient rocks on the opposite side of the Church Stretton Fault. After descending through the hamlet of Comley, where rare Cambrian rocks can be found, we'll follow the foot of Caer Caradoc and return along country lanes through All Stretton. An illustrated evening talk will provide an overview of the geology of South Shropshire.

Day 6 The Stiperstones

Walk along the atmospheric Stiperstones ridge, discover how its dramatic tors were formed and uncover the area's mining heritage.

Distance: 9.5 miles (15.5 km)

Ascent: 1,270 feet (390 m)

We'll begin at Mitchell's Fold Bronze Age stone circle, set beneath Corndon Hill, before following paths and tracks to The Bog, once an important centre for lead mining. From here, we'll climb onto the Stiperstones and follow its rugged ridge past a succession of striking rocky tors. Along the way, we'll examine sedimentary and volcanic rocks, look for evidence of past glacial conditions and piece together the environment that existed here more than 450 million years ago. We'll finish by descending through the atmospheric remains of the former Snailbeach lead mine.

Day 7 Ludlow and Mortimer Forest

Walk through peaceful woodland to historic Ludlow and discover why the town's name is recognised by geologists around the world.

Distance: 8 miles (13 km)

Ascent: 1,200 feet (365 m)

Beginning at Bromfield, near the River Teme, we'll cross the Oakly Park estate and climb into Mortimer Forest. Here, we'll search for characteristic fossils and learn how features preserved in rocks help geologists divide Earth's long history into different periods. We'll also visit the site of the Ludlow Bone Bed and explore how the Ludlow Anticline has shaped the surrounding landscape. The route continues through the wooded Mary Knoll Valley and the ancient hamlet of Ludford before following The Bread Walk beside the River Teme. Fine views of Ludlow and its castle accompany our approach to the town across Dinham Bridge.

Day 8 Departure Day

Enjoy a leisurely breakfast before making your way home.

DAILY WALK OPTIONS

Moderate walking grade 6

Longer full day walks with more ascent and varied terrain. Good fitness and agility are needed. Typically, 9-10 miles (15-16km) with around 1,500ft (460m) of ascent.

ACCOMMODATION

Longmynd Hotel

For rural calm in the Shropshire Hills National Landscape, the location of this characterful country house is hard to top. Set in a wooded hillside just a short stroll from the market town of Church Stretton (nicknamed Little Switzerland for its picturesque landscape), you'll be within walking or driving distance of the Stiperstones, Caer Caradoc, Ironbridge Valley of Invention, and the historic towns of Ludlow and Shrewsbury. And then, of course, there's the Long Mynd itself – an area of registered common land that has been cared for by a group of farmers (the self-named commoners) who have grazed sheep and ponies here for generations.

Then & now

Built in 1900, this Church Stretton landmark opened as The Hydropathic Hotel in July 1901 at a cost of £20,000. It was hyped as a glamorous addition to the town, not least for its nine acres of land, dormer windows, fine pitched roof (since replaced), healing waters from the saline spring five miles away, and interior furnishings by Heal's (then known as Heal and Son Limited). Sadly, the venture was not a success. Renamed the Longmynd Hotel, it became the headquarters of St Dunstan's, a charity for blinded ex-service personnel, in the 1940s (now known as Blind Veterans UK). Approximately 700 men and women learnt new manufacturing skills here in the hope of finding employment after WWII. You'll notice a blue plaque commemorating this historic period at the entrance, installed during the charity's centennial year in 2015. Longmynd Hotel has been part of our HF Holidays line-up since 2017.

Nowadays, you'll find 56 well-appointed guest rooms in two categories (Classic and Premium), some of which have balconies overlooking the wooded surrounds. There's also a large dining room for a wide range of dishes made with fresh and seasonal ingredients and a licensed bar – both with beautiful views across the Stretton Valley. Elsewhere, there's several comfortable lounges, a handy boot and drying room, books and games to borrow during your stay, and a Discovery Point offering a wide range of local area maps, route guides, and easy-to-follow information for self-guided walks.

Check-In & Check-Out

You are welcome to check in from 4pm at the earliest. HF Members can check in earlier, from 2pm. On arrival, you'll enjoy a complimentary cream tea and get to meet your fellow guests, our HF Holidays Leaders, and the rest of the friendly team. Check out 10am.

You'll find a welcome pack in your room with guest registration forms, menus, order forms for dinners and picnic lunches, the Wi-Fi password, and the front door code. Our houses are locked at night, so we recommend noting the Duty Manager's number on arrival in case of an emergency (or getting locked out).

Helping you enjoy the Great Outdoors - A natural focus on walks

Walks talks and Discovery Points
Our founder, country pastor turned social innovator, Thomas Arthur Leonard, was passionate about encouraging people to explore the countryside. His legacy continues in HF's continued focus on walking. Many guests choose to travel with us on guided or self-guided walking holidays, and as such, evenings at our houses are often busy with walk leaders hosting various briefings and talks. On guided walking holiday arrival days, there are walking information briefings before dinner, and for the duration of any guided walking holiday there will be a Walks Talk before (or on occasion after dinner), to go through the following day's walk options. Self-guided walking guests, and those on special interest holidays (where there is free time to explore independently), are of course welcome to also join in these Walks Talks - please talk to the team locally if you have any queries. Our Discovery Points are filled with handy maps and route notes, designed to ensure everyone, not just those booked on a guided walking holiday, can enjoy the beautiful countryside settings that our HF houses enjoy.

The walking day
Prior to setting off on guided walks, our HF Holidays Leaders run through a short safety briefing. There's also an up-to-date weather forecast on display at the house to ensure walkers have appropriate clothing and footwear. If you choose to do your own walks or are on a self-guided walking holiday, we ask that you please complete an Independent Walker Card each day. These can be found near the Discovery Point in the house.
