

Guided Walking in Morocco

Trip style: Guided Walking Holidays

Destination:  Morocco

Trip code: MAB10-WHW10

Trip Walking Grade: 1-3

Holiday Overview

Taking you from the buzz of Marrakech's medina to the High Atlas Mountains, this Morocco walking holiday reveals the North African nation at its most memorable. As part of a welcoming group guided by our expert local leaders, you'll travel to R'bat in the Ait Bouguemez 'Happy Valley' – a wonderfully green pocket of orchards, gorges and Berber villages. It's then onto Imlil for walks in the shadow of the inimitable Mt Toubkal – North Africa's tallest peak. Enjoy unhurried walks that reveal everyday mountain life, plus time to visit Ouzoud Waterfalls and tour all the highlights of Marrakech.

WHAT YOU'LL LOVE

- Exploring the vibrant city of Marrakech
- Experience the Berber way of life in the Atlas mountains
- World class hiking routes through stunning valleys
- Hike in the shadow of Mt Toubkal North Africa's highest mountain

WHAT'S INCLUDED

- Walks with an experienced local leader
- 8 nights' touring accommodation in Marrakech & Atlas Mountains
- 8 breakfasts, 6 lunches & 8 dinners
- A dinner show at Dar Essalam restaurant
- All sightseeing and entrance fees (as per itinerary)

WALKING GRADES AND OPTIONS

This tour is graded level 3 which is moderate. There is a choice of two walks per day one harder than the other. Distances walked on the easier walk average at 4 miles (6.5km) while the harder walk averages at 8 miles (13km). The terrain is uneven and at times rocky underfoot and the trails are not always well defined, and we will be walking around hillsides. A good level of fitness and mobility are necessary.

ITINERARY - ITINERARY

Day 1 Arrival Marrakech

Arrive in Marrakech and transfer to your accommodation. Settle in and relax or explore the local area. This evening enjoy your first experience of Moroccan cuisine with a welcome dinner.

Day 2 Marrakech - Medina Tour

We start with a visit to the beautifully ornate Ben Youssef Madrasa. After lunch at a local restaurant (not included), we dive into the colourful souks and tick off more of Marrakech's highlights, including the Koutoubia Mosque and the detail-rich Bahia Palace. We'll pause at Spice Square, wander quieter lanes to see artisan workshops at work, and stop by a communal bakery for a glimpse of daily life, before ending the day in Jemaa el-Fna as the square comes alive in the evening.

Day 3 Marrakech - Aït Bouguemez

Distance: 2 miles (3.2 km)

Ascent: 500 ft (150 m)

Today we leave the hustle and bustle of the city and drive through the foothills of the High Atlas Mountains to the Berber town of Azilal where we'll hike to Ouzoud Falls. We'll enjoy lunch at a local restaurant near the waterfalls, taking in the views and relaxed atmosphere of this natural site.

We'll pass mountains, gorges, and mud brick Berber villages on our way to the heart of the High Atlas, including Aït Bouguemez, also known as happy valley. Then it's on to our accommodation in the village of R'bat, Tabant, which will be our base for the rest of our time in the valley.

Day 4 Sidi Moussa and Tighza Gorge

Sidi Moussa and Tighza Gorge

Distance: 9.5 miles (15km)

Ascent: 1640 feet (500m)

Passing the shrine of Sidi Moussa, a conical hill with an ighrem building (defensive mud brick granary store) perched on top, we'll wind our way through fields and orchards. Look up and you'll see stork nests balanced on top of trees as we make our way to a picnic stop near the Gorges of Tighza. On the other side of Aït Bouguemez valley, we'll walk to the village of Aguerd N Ouzrou before returning to R'bat, Tabant.

Day 5 Aït Bouguemez

Distance: 8 miles (13km)

Ascent: 950ft (300m)

Today we'll walk through the village of Imelghas, past Iskattafen, and up into the foothills below the mountain of Ighil n'Aït Ourit. Rocky paths are lined with juniper and oak trees as we follow the valley to Ahabbay. Walnut and apple trees also blanket the valley below, while the fields are still managed by hand. We'll climb up to a picnic spot with views towards M'goun then walk to the small shepherds' huts to Ighil n Tissila and back down the valley to R'bat, Tabant.

Day 6 Aït Bouguemez – Imlil

This morning we say goodbye to the peaceful Aït Bouguemez Valley and travel along the winding roads of the High Atlas to Imlil. En route, we stop at Tasaout Park for a short, leg-stretching walk, then enjoy a picnic lunch surrounded by mountain scenery. The journey is a highlight in itself, passing terraced fields, traditional Berber villages and rugged peaks. By afternoon we arrive in Imlil, the gateway to Toubkal National Park. Settle into our mountain lodge and enjoy time to relax before dinner, ready for the walks ahead.

Day 7 Imlil – Aremd – Sidi Chamharouch

Aremd – Sidi Chamharouch

Distance: 6 miles (10km)

Ascent: 900ft (280m)

Following the main trail toward Mount Toubkal, we walk through Aremd village and continue along a wide valley path toward the pilgrimage site of Sidi Chamharouch. The route is gradual and scenic, with river crossings and mountain views, before returning the same way.

Day 8 Imlil – Targa Imoula Loop

Imlil – Targa Imoula Loop

Distance: 5 miles (8km)

Ascent: 800ft (250m)

This loop takes us through several small Berber villages, including Targa Imoula, along quiet trails overlooking the valley. Along the way, we pass terraced farms, orchards, and traditional homes, with plenty of opportunities to meet locals. The route forms a gentle loop back to Imlil. After the walk, transfer to Marrakech and installation in your riad. Afternoon at leisure to relax or explore the city at your own pace. In the evening, dinner at Dar Essalam restaurant with a traditional show

Day 9 Departure

Transfer to Marrakech Airport for your flight home.

Daily Walk Options

Medium Walks

Walks follow well-defined paths, though often in hilly or upland areas, or along rugged coastal footpaths. These may be rough or steep in sections and will require reasonable fitness.

Accommodation

Riad Bahia Salam, Marrakech

What was once a traditional Moroccan family home has now been lovingly converted into a luxurious and tranquil oasis just a short stroll from the bustle of Jemâa El Fna square. Simple yet tastefully decorated rooms are furnished in typical Arabo-Berber style while public areas are all long low sofas, covered in plush cushions, and handwoven Arabic rugs. Outside, you'll find a sleek pool and terrace area complete with a fully stocked bar, and a mosaic-tiled courtyard garden ideal for cooling off in the shade. When it comes to dining, there's a beautiful restaurant serving local cuisine.

Touda Ecolodge – R'bat, Ait Bougmez Valley

Perched at 2200 metres above sea level, Touda EcoLodge is ideally located for guests looking to explore the heart of High Atlas Mountains. After a day of walking, return to enjoy traditional Berber hospitality. Sip mint tea with mountain views, listen to local music, and savour typical cuisine courtesy of the lodge's exceptional restaurant. When it's time to retire, rooms inspired by Berber culture have all the mod cons required for a comfortable, relaxing stay.

Riad Jnan Imlil – Imlil

This authentic, family-run guesthouse is located in the foothills of Mount Toubkal, the highest peak in North Africa (4167m). With just nine rooms in total – all en-suite including balcony suites and deluxe suites with sitting areas – it offers a wonderfully personal feel. Berber styling runs throughout, with Tadelakt plaster walls, decorative tiles, and hand-crafted, hand-painted details by local artisans. After a day of walking, unwind in one of three comfortable lounge areas, take a refreshing dip in the swimming pool, or watch the sun set behind the High Atlas Mountains on the panoramic roof terrace.

Riad Milouda – Marrakech (8 May, 18 Sep & 2 Oct)

This traditional riad in Marrakech's lively medina is just a short stroll from the Bahia Palace, yet wonderfully calm once you step inside. Rooms are styled in authentic Moroccan tradition combined with modern comforts throughout. Make use of the welcoming shared lounge area for post-walk downtime or sit on the spacious rooftop terrace for sweeping city views as the sun dips behind the horizon.
