ITINERARY - ITINERARY

Day 1 ARRIVAL DAY

Arrive at your hotel in Praia da Rocha. Unpack and settle in.

Day 2 Lagos Coastline

With sandstone cliffs towering over the turquoise sea below, the dramatic coastline to the west of Lagos is one of the most spectacular natural features of the Algarve.

Lagos' lighthouse sits atop the Ponta da Piedade headland, where a network of boardwalks allows visitors to enjoy the impressive display of jagged rock arches, sea stacks, and caves.

Option 1 – Lagos Coastline: Porto de Mós To Lagos

Distance: 4.3 miles (7km)

Ascent: 396ft (121m)

Our easier walk begins in the charming village of Porto de Mós village, known for its vast golden-sand beach. We'll set off on a scenic cliff-top hiking trail that leads to Ponta da Piedade.

After marvelling at the far-reaching coastal views, we'll continue walking along the boardwalks to reach the old quarter of Lagos. This historic town sits at the mouth of the Bensafirim River and bears remnants of Phoenician, Carthaginian, Roman, and Moorish architecture. If time allows, stop by the beautiful Santo Antonio church, also known as the golden church thanks to its impressive Baroque gilt work. After a short break we'll return to the hotel.

Option 2 – The Algarve West Side: Praia da Luz To Lagos

Distance: 7.4miles (12 km)

Ascent: 908ft (277m)

Descent: 1007ft (307m)

The harder walk option today starts in pretty Praia da Luz, a small village set around a sandy bay, sheltered from the Atlantic by towering cliffs. From here, we'll climb to the Rocha Negra headland, a unique local natural feature of volcanic origin from 150 million years ago.

Take in the views as we follow the cliff tops, before descending into Porto de Mós village. From there, we'll follow the same route as option 1 above, passing through Ponta da Piedade and Lagos on our way back to the hotel.

Day 3 SILVES, THE ORANGE CAPITAL

Sitting above the Arade River, Silves was the first capital of the Algarve during the Moorish period.

Its rich historical past is reflected in the terracotta-coloured Castle, in the ancient mosque converted into a catholic cathedral, and in the centuries-old cobbled streets. The nearby Roman Bridge is another testimony to the town's ancient settlements. The green surroundings of Silves rise gently from the River valley, dotted with citrus orchards and almond groves.

These fertile lands are famed for producing the sweeter and juicier oranges of the Algarve, becoming a symbol of the region.

Option 1 – Sítio das Fontes Walk

Distance: 10km (6.2 miles)

Ascent: 213 ft (65m)

Descent: 229ft (70m)

Our walk starts in Estômbar, a small village winding through dry orchards and fertile farmland, offering expansive views of the fields, groves, and the distant Silves hills. Along the way, you pass the tranquil Sítio das Fontes, a serene spot where natural springs nourish the surrounding greenery. The route follows the contours of the Arade River, creating a scenic corridor of calm waters and riverside vegetation. As you approach Silves, the town's historic skyline emerges, crowned by the imposing Silves Castle, with the Roman Bridge connecting past and present.

Option 2 - Ilha do Rosário

Distance: 8km (4.9miles)

Ascent: 45ft (14m)

The levadas of Silves are historical irrigation channels that meander through the fertile countryside, carrying water from the hills to orchards and farmland. These stone-lined waterways have shaped the landscape for centuries, supporting the region's abundant citrus groves, almond trees, and traditional dry orchards that define Silves' agricultural heritage. Nearby, we find the Ilha do Rosário, a tranquil river island that sits on the junction between the Ribeira de Odelouca and the Arade River.

Day 4 Sagres & The History of the Empire

The soaring sea cliffs of Sagres provide views over some of the Algarve's most dramatic scenery. Europe's most south-westerly point is Cape St Vincent, a wild, windswept headland of jagged cliffs that rise to 70 metres above the crashing waves. Perched atop the churning waters of the Atlantic Ocean, Fort Sagres tells the tale of Portugal's maritime history while Cape St Vincent Lighthouse helps ships avoid disaster by throwing out a beam visible from 60 miles – it's with one of Europe's brightest lighthouses.

Option 1 - Cape St Vincent to Sagres

Distance: 6.2 miles (10 km)

Ascent: 436ft (133m)

Descent: 495ft (151m)

This walk begins from beautiful Cape St Vincent, known by the Romans as Finis Terrae - the End of the World. The jagged cliffs here rise up to 70 metres above the waves below and form the most south-westerly point of Portugal and of mainland Europe.

Following clifftop paths used by local fishermen for centuries, our walk passes first by Beliche Fortress before reaching the bigger, and more impressive Fort of Sagres. Built to protect the town from coastal invasion, this 15th century fort sits on a blustery outcrop that has had religious significance since Neolithic times. We'll then continue along the coast, completing our journey in the centre of Sagres.

Option 2 - Telheiro Beach To Sagres

Distance: 8.7 miles (14 km)

Ascent: 485ft (148 m)

Descent: 623ft (190m)

Our harder option today starts at the dramatic Telheiro Beach, the southernmost beach on the west coast of the Algarve.

After taking in the stunning scenery of wild open ocean from atop the cliffs, we'll walk along the Fishermen's Trail, part of the Vicentina Route, until we arrive at beautiful Cape St Vincent. From this point, we follow the same route as option 1, back to the centre of Sagres.

Day 5 FREE DAY

Each week there is a free day when no guided walks are offered. This is an ideal opportunity to relax around the hotel, walk independently, or visit local places of interest. Options include:

Praia da Rocha

Staying in Praia da Rocha, you'll be just moments from one of the Algarve's most impressive beaches. A wide stretch of golden sand, backed by striking cliffs and rock formations, makes it ideal for a relaxing walk or time by the sea. In your free time, you may wish to explore the promenade, where a range of cafés and restaurants offer the perfect spot for a leisurely lunch or an evening drink with views over the Atlantic.

Portimão

Just a short taxi or bus ride from Praia da Rocha, Portimão offers a contrast to the beach with its lively harbour and riverside setting. You may choose to stroll along the marina, browse local shops, or enjoy a meal in one of the traditional restaurants, many serving fresh seafood. It's an easy and enjoyable way to experience local life beyond the coast.

Day 6 MONCHIQUE MOUNTAIN RANGE

A panoramic landscape of sea and mountains scattered with small, whitewashed villages, the Monchique Mountains are almost made for trekking. This igneous rock massif of low mountains is famous for its diverse indigenous wildlife and features two of the Algarve's tallest peaks - Foia and Picota at 997 and 773 metres respectively. Our walking routes take in sections of the Via Algarviana Grand Route and on a clear day, the highest points offer incredible views of the sea.

Option 1 - Monchique Mountain Range: Alferce Circular

Distance: 4.9 miles (8km)

Ascent: 1282ft (391m)

Descent: 1272ft (388m)

After an hour's drive, we'll arrive in Alferce, a quaint village nestled in the landscapes of Monchique. We'll begin our walk by following the boardwalks that cross Barranco do Demo before a steady ascent that leads to the archaeological site of Cerro do Castelo de Alferce - an Islamic fortification which was probably erected in the 9th century AD.

Our onward path offers stunning views over the Demo Valley, with small glimpses of the sea, and later, the Odelouca and Arade dams. After a winding descent, we arrive at another junction of Barranco do Demo, where we cross the stream and begin our steady ascent back to Alferce.

Option 2 - The Windmill Path

Distance: 6.2 miles (10km)

Ascent: 1282ft (391m)

The Windmill path in Monchique begins at the heart of the village, where charming streets lead past historic squares, the Town Hall, and traditional neighbourhoods. The trail winds into dense vegetation, revealing an abandoned windmill and another visible on the distant hills, surrounded by the lush greenery of the Monchique Mountains. Along the route, the Barranco dos Pisões and the Seixe Stream bring glimpses of the Poucochinho Mill and an ancient plane tree, classified as a monumental natural landmark. The path continues through cool mountain air, passing groves of chestnut trees and offering refreshing natural scenery.

Day 7 HANGING VALLEYS TRAIL

The Seven Hanging Valleys Trail is one of the Algarve's most magnificent trails, recognised as one of the best walks in Europe. In the distant past, each hanging valley was connected to a stream that shaped the coastal cliffs into spectacular rock formations over millenia.

Near the Alfanzina Lighthouse, a small pine forest acts as an ecological haven for owls, rabbits, foxes and other wild species, and will also serve as a resting point during our walks.

Option 1 - Seven Hanging Valleys: Marinha Grande Beach To Carvoeiro

Distance: 6.2 miles (10km)

Ascent: 1079 ft (1329m)

Descent: 1072 ft (327m)

Today's longer option follows the same route as option 1 but continues beyond Centeanes Beach toward the Carvoeiro cliffs.

On the way, we'll see the impressive rock formations known as Algar Seco and the seventh valley, Vale Covo. Our walk ends on the stunning Carvoeiro waterfront, where we will have chance to rest and enjoy the views with a well-earned drink.

Option 2 - Six Hanging Valleys: Marinha Grande Beach to Centeanes

Distance: 4.9 miles (8km)

Ascent: 1079ft (329m)

Descent: 1072ft (327m)

We start our walk at the wonderful Marinha Beach viewpoint, the first of many attractive lookout points over the limestone rock formations and natural arches that make this trail an experience to remember.

The path is not technically difficult, but there are a few places where the terrain is slippery, so caution is advised. The trail passes the Alfanzina Lighthouse and rises above Carvalho Beach. Our walk ends at the lovely Centeanes Beach, backed by majestic, golden cliffs.

Day 8 DEPARTURE DAY

Return to the airport for your flight home. We hope to see you again soon.

Daily Walk Options

Easier Walks

Good paths but walks are a bit longer. Some walks, particularly in mountain areas, may have sections over rough or steeper terrain.

Medium Walks

Walks follow well-defined paths, though often in hilly or upland areas, or along rugged coastal footpaths. These may be rough or steep in sections and will require reasonable fitness.
