WALKING GRADES AND OPTIONS

Trip Suitability

In February–March and October–November, the humidity levels in Kerala will be significantly lower than during the monsoon season (June to September). Typically 65%–70% humidity can be expected, although spending much of our trip in the Western Ghats, the altitude makes it generally more breathable and the climate is cooler and less humid than the coastal areas.

For those with respiratory conditions such as asthma, it is suggested that guests take necessary precautions like carrying inhalers or medications and stay hydrated. The maximum elevation during the tour is approximately 1,600 meters (around 5,250 feet), so there should not be any concerns about altitude sickness. The tour has been placed at level 3 to account for the added impact of humidity.

This afternoon we head to Old Kochi and explore its Jewish heritage visiting the Parades Synagogue, the oldest in India. We then make our way to the Dutch Palace, built by the Portuguese as a gift to the then Maharaja of Kochi. We will wander down a historic narrow lane filled with antique shops, spice markets, art galleries and colonial-era architecture.

This is an exclusive experience for our groups. Return to the hotel and relax before dinner.

Day 4 Kochi – Thattekad – Munnar

Distance: 2.5 miles (4kms)

This morning we'll drive from Kochi to Munnar. Once the summer resort of the British administration in South India, Munnar is a beautiful Hill Station on the Western Ghats that still retains its old-world charm. Famous for its tea plantations, the town is situated at the confluence of three mountain streams Mudrapauzha, Naliathanii and Kundala. With its sprawling estates, rolling hills, sparkling waterfalls, picture-postcard hamlets and undulating valleys, Munnar is a spectacular place to explore.

Along the way, we'll stop at the Thattekad Bird Sanctuary for a nature walk where we're in with a chance of spotting kingfishers, storks, and hornbills. Afterwards, we'll continue to Munnar, check into our hotel, and spend the rest of the day at leisure or visiting the local market.

After an early breakfast, we'll drive through the old town of Munnar and arrive to a tiny village of Nagarmudi, where we start our trek accompanied by a local guide. The trail commences with a gradual ascent through the tea plantations and then climbs into Seven Malai hills. Walking through cardamom and coffee plantations, we'll reach the top and be rewarded with spectacular views over Annamudi Peak, Changulam Lake, Chittapuram Dam, Munnar and local villages. We'll descend on the same route before joining another route which finishes close to Old Munnar from which we are transferred to our hotel.

Distance: 6.2 miles (10km)

Ascent: 350m

Descent: 420m

Departing the hotel after breakfast, we'll drive to Ellapetty where we'll start our walk to the top valley, a panoramic viewpoint at an elevation of 2,200 metres above sea-level. Led by a professional guide, this trek takes us through grasslands, evergreen shola and montane forest, and across many ridges of the Western Ghats. Along the way, we'll be rewarded with spectacular views over the lowlands of Tamil Nadu, plus the chance to spot some of the region's endemic bird species.

Day 7 Munnar – Madurai

After breakfast, we leave Kerala's hill country behind and drive east across the plains to Madurai (around 4–5 hours), one of South India's oldest and most culturally important cities. On arrival, we check into our hotel and take time to freshen up before heading out for an afternoon visit to Thirumalai Nayakkar Mahal. Built in the 17th century, its grand arches and lofty pillars offer a glimpse of the Nayak rulers' former splendour.

Next, we visit the remarkable Meenakshi–Sundareshwarar Temple, a vast and richly decorated complex at the heart of the old town. This evening, you can choose to return to the temple for the optional aarti ceremony – a moving ritual of music, chanting, and procession – or enjoy a relaxed evening at leisure.

Please note: Meenakshi Temple is currently under restoration and the main gopurams (entrance towers) may be covered in scaffolding. Works are expected to finish by spring 2026 but could run beyond this.

Day 8 Madurai Sightseeing Tour

After breakfast, we set out early to see Madurai waking up. We begin at the city's flower market, a feast of colour and fragrance where garlands of jasmine, marigolds, and roses are woven for daily temple rituals. If time allows, we'll also take a look at the nearby banana and vegetable market, where lively trading offers a real insight into local life.

Next, we visit the Gandhi Memorial Museum, housed in Tamukkam Palace, once the summer residence of Rani Mangammal, a queen regent of the Madurai Nayak kingdom. From here, we continue to Mariamman Teppakulam, a vast temple tank with a shrine at its centre. Later, there's the chance to sample some of Madurai's best-loved local delicacies before an evening at leisure.

Day 9 Madurai – Thekkady

Distance: 2.5miles (4km)

This morning we'll make our way to the bustling village of Thekkady, one of India's most important spice-growing regions. Enjoy a wonderfully scenic drive which climbs through the Western Ghats with fantastic views across Tamil Nadu before arriving at our hotel. Once we've checked in, there'll be a tour of a spice garden where we'll learn all about growing cardamom, cinnamon, turmeric, vanilla, peppercorns, chilies, and more. There will also be information about the spices uses in cooking and health therapies.

Your Local leader will take you on an orientation tour of Thekkedy then the afternoon is free for you to choose where to eat for lunch and have a wander. This evening, we attend a Kalarippayattu martial arts performance which demonstrates an ancient tradition including acrobatics, unarmed combat, displays of the use of weapons and poses to represent strong animals like lions. You sit on benches overlooking a sunken arena so you can see all the action.

Day 10 Periyar Wildlife Sanctuary

Distance: 3 miles (5km)

Embark on an early morning jungle walk in Periyar National Park, one of the largest in Southern India, for the chance to spot wild Indian elephants, wild boar, buffalo, and more with an expert guide. In the afternoon, there'll be a boat ride on Periyar Lake, with opportunities to spot rare riverbank wildlife. Later, we'll participate in a cooking demonstration with a local Keralan family and dine on our creations for dinner. It's a fun beginner course where you'll be taught how to cook Indian food and use Indian spices—all while getting acquainted with family members of a traditional Indian home.

Day 11 Thekkady - Alleppey Backwaters

We'll make our way from Thekkady to the coast for one of the highlights of the whole tour today. Climb aboard a traditional Keralan houseboat and cruise the backwaters of Allepey for an authentic snapshot of local life. Built of Anjili wood and bamboo, these enchanting houseboats, were the traditional mode of transporting goods across Southern India for centuries. Now they have been carefully converted into cruise boats. On board, you can try your hand at fishing, grab a drink from the bar or just sit back and savour the peace and quiet of this tranquil waterway. We'll drop anchor on the beautiful Vembanad Lake and be served a delicious dinner before overnighing in your comfortable cabin.

Day 12 Alleppey – Marari

After waking to the sounds of birds on the riverbank, we'll enjoy breakfast on the houseboat, before a drive to beautiful Marari Beach and the fisherman's village of Mararikulam. We'll check into our hotel where you can enjoy the coastal setting before dinner.
