ITINERARY

Day 1: DEPART FROM THE UK

Overnight flight to Buenos Aires.

Day 2: BUENOS AIRES

Once you've arrived in Buenos Aires, you'll set off on a tour to discover the city's highlights. Known as the Paris of South America, Buenos Aires' architecture is enchanting. We'll visit the Avenida de Mayo Boulevard and the Plaza de Mayo, home to the cathedral and city hall, as well as the colourful tin houses of San Telmo de la Boca. We'll wind up in the northern part of Buenos Aires, where parks and wide avenues dominate the cityscape.

Day 3: EL CHALTEN

Fly from Buenos Aires to El Chalfate and transfer to El Chaltén

Day 4: LAGUNA DE LOS TRES

Distance: 9km

Ascent: 800m

This is the signature walk in this part of the world, and the closest to Mount Fitz Roy. We'll set off on a long, but well-marked trail that starts in El Chaltén, firstly tackling a steep slope to reach Del Salto Valley. We'll cross the Rio Blanco to arrive at the base camp. From here, we'll continue ascending approximately 400m until we reach Laguna de los Tres.

Day 5: CERRO TORRE VIEWPOINT

Distance: 6km

Ascent: 300m

We'll transfer from El Chaltén to El Calafate to trek to the Cerro Torre viewpoint. Our walk begins with a 20-minute uphill climb through a beautiful lenga forest – Patagonia's native trees. We'll enjoy views of the Fitz Roy River running through the base of the canyon to our left. On the horizon, we'll be able to see the granite formations of the entire massif, Fitz Roy and its surrounding hills. We'll return on the same path, this time soaking up the immensity of the Patagonian steppe and the hills in the vicinity of Lake Viedma.

Day 6: PERITO MORENO GLACIER

Day 7: CALAFATE TO CERRO CASTILLO

Today we'll travel from Argentina into neighbouring Chile. We'll need to change our vehicle at the border after custom formalities, from where we'll continue to Torres del Paine National Park. Enjoy lunch at a local restaurant on the Chilean side of the border along the way.

Day 8: LAGO GREY

Distance: 7km

Ascent: 200m

Embark on a three-hour boat excursion to Grey Glacier, the largest in Torres del Paine National Park. Starting at Hotel Lago Grey, we'll cruise up the lake towards the glacier, which stands tall at 30m (100ft) high and 6km (3.7 miles) wide. Pieces of ice both large and small regularly break off from the front of the glacier, falling into the water and floating across the lake like fluorescent blue icebergs. We'll pass in front of the glacier as close as possible for a close-up view of the majestic sight, before returning to the hotel.

Afternoon trek in the Sarmiento sector

Our hike begins after a short transfer to Lago Sarmiento park entrance and takes us northwards to the Laguna Amarga entrance. We'll be able to spot a wide range of flora and fauna, including rheas (large, flightless birds) and wild guanaco (similar to domesticated llamas). What's more, we'll see fascinating rock paintings created by the region's indigenous population.

Day 9: TREKKING TO LAS TORRES BASE VIEWPOINT

Distance: 18km

Ascent: 650m

We'll climb upwards into the Asencio Valley, stopping to admire the marvellous views of Nordenskjöld Lake and Almirante Nieto Mountain (2,670m) behind you. After resting at Refugio El Chileno, we'll continue for about an hour and a half, passing through an age-old lenga (beech) forest and crossing plunging streams to the Campamento Torres.

Here, we'll climb steeply up the side of the valley, through a rock-covered glacial moraine to the Las Torres Base viewpoint. This magnificent spot rewards with memorable views of the Torre Sur at 2,850 m, Torre Central (2,800m), Torre Norte (2,600 m), and Cerro Nido de Cóndor.

Day 10: PUNTA ARENAS

We'll travel to Punta Arenas, the capital of the Magellan region, which thanks to its location on the Magellan Strait, prospered and continues to be used by merchant ships to this day.

We'll drive to the Cerro de la Cruz viewpoint for far-reaching views of the city and the Magellan Strait. Then we'll head to the main square, Plaza de Armas, which is lined with 19th century mansions.

Day 11: SANTA MARTA AND MAGDALENA ISLANDS

This 4.5-hour shared boat trip takes us through the icy waters of the Strait of Magellan to the islands of Santa Marta and Magdalena. The islands are home to an enormous colony of Magellan penguins, as well as many other animals, including cormorants and petrels.

We'll set off from Laredo Bay to Santa Marta Island, home to a colony of sea lions, along with cormorant nesting grounds. After a tour of Santa Marta, we'll venture to Magdalena Island, also part of the Los Pingüinos Natural Monument protection area since 1982. Each year, from October to March, over 60,000 pairs of Magellan penguins converge to nest and fledge their young. We'll visit an environmental interpretation centre for more information on the Magellan Strait and its ecological richness.

There's time for lunch followed by condor watching at Estancia Olga Teresa, home to 60 to 100 Andean condors. Under professional guidance, we'll be able to marvel at these creatures through a telescope. Your guide will explain everything about them and their behaviour.

Day 12: SANTIAGO

After our flight from Punta Arenas to Santiago, we'll enjoy a sunset visit to the Sky Costanera observation platform, atop the tallest building in South America. With clear skies, you'll even be able to see the ski centres in the Andes.

Day 13: LA CAMPANA NATIONAL PARK

Distance: 3km

Ascent: 400m

An early transfer brings us La Campana National Park, named after La Campana mountain (1,910m/6,267ft). The park encompasses one of the few protected central regions of Chile that still retains its original flora and fauna, and was added to the UNESCO World Biosphere list in 1985.

Our hike leads through an impressive natural forest and a particular highlight are the palm groves here, in the northern Ocoa sector of the national park. Towards the end of the hike, we'll reach a viewpoint with panoramic vistas of the entire valley. In the evening, enjoy a farewell dinner at local restaurant in Santiago.

Day 14: DEPARTURE DAY

Private transfer from the hotel to the airport in Santiago.

USEFUL HOLIDAY INFORMATION

Weather & Seasonality

Chile has great climatic diversity due to its length and position, crossing a tremendous range of latitudes. In Santiago, a Mediterranean type climate prevails: summers are generally dry, with maximum temperatures of 28°C; evenings are cooler. In Punta Arenas, the average summer temperature drops to 11°C. Rainfall here is lower, but wind chill and general dampness often make the area feel cooler. Weather here is unpredictable, particularly in the Torres del Paine National Park. Sectors within the park have their own microclimates, dependent upon geographical location and nearness to mountains and glaciers.

Argentina experiences a similar diversity in climate with Buenos Aires enjoying warm summers and the south having much cooler and more unpredictable weather, but certainly with a share of warm sunny days.

Vaccines: Diphtheria, Hepatitis A, Typhoid & Tetanus vaccinations are recommended. Rabies is sometimes recommended too.

Passports & Visas

Passports

For both Chile and Argentina, a full passport is required for the duration of the stay.

Visas

No visa is required for British citizens with full right of residence in the UK. Those who do not have British passports with full right of residence in the UK should check requirements with a Chilean and Argentinian embassy or consulate.

Citizens of Australia may be required to pay a processing fee on arrival at Santiago airport; please check at the time of travel.

Australian and Canadian citizens must pay a reciprocity fee online prior to their arrival in Argentina (other countries should contact their embassy for advice). This used to also apply to American citizens but recently changed; please ensure you check in advance in case the situation changes. Please see www.migraciones.gov.ar/ for further information.

Payment should be made no more than three months prior to the expected arrival date. A printed receipt will have to be submitted to Immigration authorities on arrival. Failure to pay this fee in advance may result in refusal of entry in Argentina.

As of 9th May 2020, Australian citizens will need a visa to enter Chile. The maximum length of stay is 90 days. The visa must be applied for at the Chilean consulate closest to your place of residence. The cost is approximately 145 USD. Other passport holders and nationalities should consult the embassy for advice.

Useful Information

Spanish is spoken in both Chile and Argentina; some basic pleasantries include:

'Hola' – Hello

'Adiós' – Goodbye

'Sí' – Yes

'No' – No '
Por favor' – Please
'Gracias' – Thank you
'¿Habla usted inglés?' – Do you speak English?

Travel Insurance

Travel insurance is a condition of booking. Therefore, if you have not already arranged insurance, it is imperative that you do so, and advise us of the insurance company and policy number.

We work with Campbell Irvine to provide you with competitive single and annual multi-trip insurance. Please see our website for more information and details of how to contact them for a quote: <https://www.hfholidays.co.uk/about-us/booking-information/insurance>.

For more information about healthcare abroad and its costs, please visit: <https://www.nhs.uk/using-the-nhs/healthcare-abroad/>.

If you are arranging your own travel insurance, please ensure it is adequate for your specific itinerary. Generally, this should include cover for walking at altitudes over 2,000m - the highest point on the harder walks may go up to 2,700m.

Luggage

Luggage Allowance

1 piece checked-in luggage, max. 23kg. Size should not exceed 158 linear cm. Hand luggage allowance is max. 5kg. These maximums are determined by the internal flight luggage allowance.

Please check details of your airline's baggage allowance, as shown on your e-ticket. Remember to also check any connecting flights you may have booked.

Lost/Damaged Luggage

If your bag or its contents are damaged or lost while in the airline's care, this should be reported to the baggage service agents at the airport on arrival. They will assess the damage; in some cases, the airline may decide to settle your claim immediately.

You will be given a reference to quote to your insurance company if an immediate settlement is not possible - in many cases, baggage claims can only be accepted in writing. A baggage claim form must be obtained from the airport.

Local Currency

The unit of currency in Chile is the Peso and in Argentina, the Argentinian Peso. Neither is easy to obtain outside of their respective countries, so it is advisable to take US$ which is the preferred foreign currency.

Dollars in cash are easy to exchange and can often be used in everyday transactions – particularly in Argentina, less so in Chile. Major credit cards are accepted in most places. You should ensure that you have access to emergency funds, probably by means of a credit card. Traveller's cheques are not advised.

We recommend you budget on needing approximately US$60-70 per person, per day as spending money to cover your drinks, meals which are not included – and, of course, any souvenirs you may wish to buy

Local Time

GMT/UTC -3 hours

Electricity

In both countries, the supply is 220V, 50Hz. Round two-pin plugs are used but flat three-pin plugs may be needed in Argentina. We recommend you take a universal plug to cover all options.

ATM Availability

There are also cash-point machines at airports and town centres which can be used to withdraw cash
