

Wildlife & Dunes of Namibia

Trip style: Walking with sightseeing

Destination: 📍 Namibia

Trip code: NAM14-WHW10

Trip Walking Grade: 1/2

Carbon Footprint: 🌳 3143kg CO2

Holiday Overview

Exceptional wildlife, photogenic deserts, and beautiful coastline makes Namibia a must-see destination for first-timers or returning visitors. Stand atop sky-high sand dunes in the Namib Desert, seek out big game with an Etosha National Park safari, and keep your eyes peeled for whales, dolphins, seals, turtles, and sunfish during a boat trip in beautiful Walvis Bay. Equally standout is the granite landscape of the Erongo mountain range for a wealth of bird life, reptiles, mammals, and plants that are endemic or near endemic. Most fascinating of all are the unique cultures which you will experience meeting the Damara people, the San, and the Himba tribe.

WHAT YOU'LL LOVE

- Experiencing the Sossusvlei dunes in the Namib Desert
- Spotting pelicans and flamingos at Walvis Bay Lagoon
- Taking a boat ride from Swakopmund in search of the 'Marine Big 5'
- Watching the sun set over the Erongo Mountains
- Admiring ancient rock art at Twyfelfontein
- Enjoying game drives at Etosha National Park
- Meeting local tribes and learning about their history, traditions and daily life
- A more personalised experience thanks to small group sizes (maximum 14 people)

WHAT'S INCLUDED

- Local Tour Manager who leads walks and sightseeing
- Game drives led by experienced safari leaders
- 14 nights' touring accommodation across Namibia
- 14 breakfasts, 1 lunch, 14 dinners
- All tips, sightseeing and national park entrance fees (as per itinerary)
- All in-destination transport
- Return flights from London including baggage and transfers

WALKING GRADES AND OPTIONS

This trip is graded level 2, leisurely. There are no long walks, and all are on the flat though the terrain may be rough and uneven. To see the various rock art at key sites like Twyfelfontein, often involves short, rocky climbs and scrambling over boulders to reach viewing areas. It's usually manageable for reasonably mobile people. Our guides will show us the most accessible art.

ITINERARY - ITINERARY

Day 1 Depart the UK

Our with-flights guests depart the UK on an overnight flight to Windhoek.

Day 2 Arrive in Windhoek

We arrive in Windhoek and are joined by our without-flight guests. We'll enjoy an afternoon city tour of Windhoek, the vibrant heart of Namibia. Discover the unique blend of tradition and modernity that makes this a must-see destination. Later, we'll enjoy dinner at Windhoek's famous restaurant, Joe's Beerhouse. With an extensive menu catering for all tastes and classic and signature cocktails including non-alcoholic Joe's is a great place for your welcome dinner.

Day 3 Namib Desert

After breakfast we'll travel into the majestic Namib Desert which means "place where there is nothing". This is the world's oldest desert stretching along the Atlantic coast of Namibia, Angola and South Africa. Despite its name the desert rich with biodiversity, ancient cultures and incredible moving seas of red sands that form mega-dunes. On arrival at our eco-friendly camp settle into your cabin and then take a stroll to the tops of dunes to see the vastness of the desert. Make your way to the wide central deck and enjoy a sundowner while watching the sunset before a delicious dinner is served.

Day 4 Sossusvlei

An early start gets us on the road for our all day excursion to Sossusvlei, Dead Vlei and Sesriem Canyon. Sossusvlei is a salt and clay pan surrounded by towering red dunes. Dead Vlei (dead marsh) is a stark white clay pan dotted with dead camel thorn trees that are 600 years old. The dark skeletons rising out of the white pan with the surrounding red dunes and bright blue skies create a surreal atmosphere and is a photographer's dream.

After our visit we continue on to our lodge where we take a sundowner drive in the petrified dunes of the Gondwana Namib Park. These dunes solidified into sandstone during wetter periods from 20 to 8 million years ago. They are richly coloured from red brown to golden and are especially beautiful at sunset.

Day 5 Namib Naukluft National Park

Enjoy the stillness of the morning with a sunrise walk over the dunes. Leaving our lodge we head to the town of Solitaire on the edge of the Namib Naukluft National Park. We stop at a small bakery founded by Percy 'Moose' McGregor a Scottish adventurer who included a German apple pie in his range of baked goods. His pie and warm welcome quickly caught on and visitors come from near and far to sample his famous pie. Who would have thought you would find a favourite humble dessert in the middle of Namibia. From here we continue our drive through spectacular scenery to our next accommodation, in the Naukluft National Park

Late afternoon we will take a scenic sundowner drive into the desert. Look out for mountain zebra, ostrich and oryx. We may even find Welwitschia mirabilis a unique ancient plant known for its incredible longevity (over 2,000 years).

There is an option to do a late night guided walk to spot nocturnal animals and insects.

Day 6 Swakopmund

After breakfast, we depart for the coastal town of Swakopmund, where we'll be staying for the next two nights. The valleys of the Swakop River form an otherworldly landscape and is likened to the moon's surface. It came into existence as the river cut through the softer surface deposits. These soft materials were laid down some 460 million years ago when the area's climate was wet. Swakopmund is a bustling seaside town characterised by 19th-century German colonial architecture. On arrival in the town, we check into the hotel, and you will have free time until we head out for dinner in a local restaurant.

Day 7 Walvis Bay Lagoon

Today we visit Walvis Bay Lagoon and join one of the catamarans for a marine cruise. We hope to spot dolphins, whales, turtles, seals and mola mola (sunfish). Our initial route takes us past oyster farms as we approach Pelican Point with its landmark lighthouse and 60,000 resident Cape Fur Seals. On the south side of Walvis Bay is a great lagoon that attracts tens of thousands of birds, including many flamingos. The lagoon, salt pans and the bird sanctuary which form the Walvis Bay Wetlands are one of the most important coastal wetlands of southern Africa. Tea and coffee is served on board. Following our marine adventure, we will return to our Swakopmund hotel, and the rest of the day is at leisure.

Day 8 Damaraland Day 1

Today we leave the coast and head into Damaraland. We will visit amazing Twyfelfontein, home to ancient rock engravings and petroglyphs created by the indigenous San people. Modern estimates suggest there are around 5,000 engravings with 2,000 in the main area. We will also visit the Damara Living Museum. Living museums in Africa are social enterprises aimed at maintaining ancient cultures and traditions especially for the younger generations and for providing a source of income to marginalised groups. The museum is an interactive experience with a reconstructed village where you will see how Damara people lived in the past. We will arrive at our lodge in the late afternoon and then head out for a guided sundowners walk.

Day 9 Damaraland Day 2

Discover small native wildlife and the drought-resistant flora on a morning hike with a knowledgeable local guide. The wildlife in this area include Namaqua Rock Rats, Lesser Red Musk Shrew and Damara Mole Rat. Look to the skies for a range of birds including Monteiro's Hornbill, Rock runner, White-tailed Shrike, Carp's Tit and Rüppell's Parrot. You may also see raptures such as Verreaux's Eagle, Peregrine Falcon and Egyptian Vulture. After lunch we take a scenic drive to search for the larger wildlife endemic to this region. These include desert Elephants, Black Rhino, Gemsbok (Oryx), Springbok, Kudu, Hartmann's Mountain Zebra, Giraffe, Lion and Cheetah. Return to our lodge for leisure time.

Day 10 Erongo Mountains Day 1

Travel across the wide-open plains of the Damaraland to the dry riverbed of the Uniab River which forms a prominent green belt in the desert. This is an ephemeral river, meaning it is usually dry but flows often underground. The lush vegetation is an attraction to the local wildlife. We travel on and receive a warm welcome from the Himba people in Ozohere village. They are semi-nomadic pastoralists, herding cattle and goats. They have a distinct culture, rich traditions, and a striking appearance, especially the women's red ochre body paint which symbolises beauty and also protects the skin. We continue on to our lodge for the next two nights and are welcomed by an iced tea. After settling in, dinner will be served.

Day 11 Erongo Mountains Day 2

We will spend the morning on a bush walk to the Living Museum of the San. The San are considered to be the oldest surviving indigenous hunter-gatherer community in southern Africa. They are known for their incredible rock carving skills, their story telling, music and trance dances. They have a strong reverence for nature and extensive ecological knowledge. During our visit you will have the chance to interact with the villagers and watch demonstrations of traditional survival techniques. The bush walk includes the San rock carving and they will share information about the use of certain medicinal plants. After we will return to the lodge for leisure time.

Day 12 Etosha National Park Day 1

Leaving Damaraland behind our journey takes us to the vast salt pans and diverse wildlife of the Etosha National Park. Widely considered to be one of the best national parks in the world its vast shimmering salt pan attracts a wide range of wildlife to its waterholes providing incredible viewing. While usually dry and white, during the rainy season it can become a shallow lake which attracts flamingos and other waterbirds. On arrival at our lodge, settle in, grab a drink from the bar and take in the views of the vast expanse of mopane woodland from the deck. Tomorrow, we head out on a full day game drive.

Day 13 Etosha National Park Day 2

Full Day in Etosha National Park with our own guide and private vehicles. Once we pass the park gates, we will be on the watch for wildlife, stopping whenever they are close - we may even have to stop while they cross the road in front of us - wildlife has the right of way! The wildlife are free roaming, and we hope to see lions, elephants, leopards, black and white rhinos (4 of the big 5) along with zebra, giraffe, wildebeest and antelope. We will stop at one of the park restaurants for lunch and then head out again for the afternoon to continue our search for wonderful wildlife. On return to our lodge there is time to freshen up and relax before dinner which is sure to be filled with conversation about the day.

Day 14 Otjiwarongo Day 1

After breakfast we depart for Otjiwarongo in the Waterberg region. On the way we visit the Cheetah Conservation Fund. The CCF works to develop best practices that benefit the entire ecosystem upon which the cheetah depends. This beautiful big cat is under threat of extinction in the wild. Once widespread in Africa, the Arabian Peninsula and into central India they now only inhabit 10% of their original range. We will see the CCFs Ambassador Cheetahs while learning about the programs that address the concerns for wildlife populations and the human communities that share the landscape. Settle into your chalet overlooking a waterhole at our lodge for the next two nights.

Day 15 Otjiwarongo Day 2

Enjoy a leisurely breakfast and free time this morning. This afternoon we take a guided walk around the Otjiwa reserve. The lodge's expert guides know this area like the back of their hands. From the smallest insects to 4 legged wildlife, you will learn all about Namibia's natural world and enjoy walking in the wild.

Day 16 Departure Day

After breakfast we travel back to our starting point Windhoek International airport for your homebound flights.

Day 17 Arrive UK

With-flight guests arrive back in the UK.

Daily Walk Options

Easier Walks

Good paths but walks are a bit longer. Some walks, particularly in mountain areas, may have sections over rough or steeper terrain.
